Pi Kappa Alpha wins tailgating award.

During the fall quarter of the 2010-2011 school year Pi Kappa Alpha held many tailgates. Numerous amounts of people showed up to each tailgate to eat great food, cooked by the guys, and to be with good friends. Louisiana Tech held its first annual tailgate challenge that judged which fraternity holds the best tailgates each week. The judges look at a few different things when judging to see which fraternity is the winner. Fraternities are judged on food, school spirit and participation. We worked very hard on making some great food and inviting enough people out each week so that we could be recognized as the winners. Louisiana Tech recognized our award-winning tailgates at the Fresno St. vs. La Tech women's basketball game at half time. We are very excited and proud to have won the award.

UNITY STEP SHOW FAVORITES

During this year's homecoming week Pi Kappa Alpha participated in many events, one being the Unity Step Show. The 10 participants from Pi Kappa Alpha, listed to the left, worked very hard preparing many weeks for the show. Although nervous and anxious, the 10 men did very well in the show and they were a crowd favorite. Pi Kappa Alpha was the only fraternity in the IFC that participated in this event and represented in a very good fashion. The video can be viewed on YouTube by clicking the link above.
